—Very frequently sportsmen fire a shot at random and kill something they did not know was before them. So it is with an editor, he writes an item, fires at no one particular, and some guilty person "gives himself away" by crying out, "That means me." How true those words of Shakespeare, "A thief doth think each bush an officer."

—Vennor has made his prediction about the coming winter. He says "it will be warm, open and wet, with little people can take his predictions as they please. However, they had better lay in the usual supply of wood.

Illustrated" and other editions of standard authors, issued this season. The typography, and all mechanical qualities of printing and binding are simply superb, and the prices a veritable marvel, to the old-time book-buyer. The list includes the works, complete, of Dickens, 15 volumes, reduced in price $22.50 to $9 net; Thackeray's, from $16.50 to $6.75; George Eliot's, from Cough Syrup.

the first of November, when Mr. K. will take "Bronks" direct to the races himself.

—"A Circumstance," a sparkling story written expressly for THE SEN-TINEL by Madge Wilder, begins in this issue. Lovers of pure English should read this story. If you are not a subscriber, send in your name at once. It will pay your children ten fold the price of the paper, to read this story.

—With the use of the new postal notes, money in sums under $5 can be sent through the mails at the small cost of three cents. This will enable newspaper subscribers to be more prompt in remitting subscriptions. Silver is too heavy to forward in a letter, but can easily be changed for a postal note.
Delinquent subscribers cannot help taking this hint, it is an awful easy one.

wish the Kunkels abundant success.

—Christian Meyer Post, Oregon, was —Mrs. Mary E. Sterrett has just received the noblest line of hats, bonnets and caps for ladies ever brought to the city, and at prices to suit all.

She carries everything usually found in a first-class stock of millinery goods, and invites the ladies to call and inspect the same before purchasing. She has adopted the cash system, and from now on will sell for cash only, but will save you money, as she can sell at closer figures. See advertisement.

—Messrs. Corsant & Meyer, Mound City, are laying in their mammoth stock of fall goods and invite the people of Holt county through the columns of the SENTINEL to call and inspect their goods. Mr. Corsant is one of the closest buyers in the northwest, and as goods well bought are well sold, our patrons should heed the advice and give Mr. Corsant a call. It is luck, vim and enterprise that wins, and Corsant & Meyer's mammoth establishment is sufficient evidence that these gentlemen possess these qualities, so necessary in the live merchant.

—Minton & Burgess, the people's old stand-by, make themselves conspicuous in our columns again in this week's issue. They ask each and everyone of you to come and inspect their goods and be convinced as to the quality and astonishing low prices they are offering to the cash buyer. You will find them honest and true gentlemen to deal with. The manager, Mr.
Will Minton, is one of the most accommodating and business like young men in Holt county, and anything he might tell you, you can rely upon as truth.
Remember Minton & Burgess, Forest City, if you want anything in the line of groceries, dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, or in a general merchandise line.

THE MARKETS.

There has been some uncertainty in the wheat market, and prices have fluctuated, but at the close prices are about the same as last week. Futures are a shade higher. The market closed high at $1.00.

There has been a stronger tone prevailing in corn and prices have shown a slight advance, culminating in a slight squeezing of the shorts. The market closed at 47 cts.

Cattle receipts the past week have been liberal, while the quality has been good. The trade however, has been a steady one, and prices of good qualities were firm and strong. Shipping $5.30 to $5.50.

The demand for hogs has been fair with a fair shipping call, prices have been strong. Shippers $5.90 to $6.15.
